VEGETINE

PURIFIES THE BLOOD,

Renovates and Invigorates the Whole System.

Its Medicinal Properties are Alterative, Tonic, Solvent, and Diuretic.

VEGETINE is made exclusively from the juices of carefully selected barks, roots and herbs, and so strongly concentrated, that it will effectually eradicate from the system every taint of Scrofula, Scrofulous Humor, Tumors, Cancer, Cancerous Humor, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Syphilitic Diseases, Canker, Faintness at the Stomach, and all diseases that arise from impure blood. Sciatica, Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Gout and Spinal Complaints, can only be effectually cured through the blood.

For Ulcers and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, Pustules, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, Tetter, Scald-head and Ringworm, VEGETINE has never failed to effect a permanent cure.

For Pains in the Back, Kidney Complaints, Dropsy, Female Weakness, Leucorrhea, arising from internal ulceration, and uterine diseases and General Debility, VEGETINE acts directly upon the causes of these complaints. It invigorates and strengthens the whole system, acts upon the secretive organs, allays inflammation, cures ulceration and regulates the bowels.

For Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Headache, Piles, Nervousness and General Prostration of the Nervous System, no medicine has ever given such perfect satisfaction, as the VEGETINE. It purifies the blood, cleanses all of the organs, and possesses a controlling power over the nervous system.

The remarkable cures effected by VEGETINE have induced many physicians and apothecaries whom we know to prescribe and use it in their own families.

In fact, VEGETINE is the best remedy yet discovered for the above diseases, and is the only reliable BLOOD PURIFIER yet placed before the public.

The Best Evidence.

The following letter from Rev. E. S. Best, Pastor of the M. E. Church, Natick, Mass., will be read with interest by many physicians; also those suffering from the same disease as afflicted the son of the Rev. E. S. Best. No person can doubt this testimony, as there is no doubt about the curative powers of VEGETINE.

NATICK, MASS., JAN. 1st, 1874.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—We have good reason for regarding your VEGETINE a medicine of the greatest value. We feel assured that it has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age; for the last two years he has suffered from necrosis of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so far reduced that nearly all who saw him thought his recovery impossible. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his ever rallying; two of the number declaring that he was beyond the reach of human remedies, that even amputation could not save him as he had not vigor enough to endure the operation. Just then we commenced giving him VEGETINE, and from that time to the present he has been continuously improving. He has lately resumed his studies, thrown away his crutches and cane, and walks about cheerfully and strong.

Though there is still some discharge from the opening where the limb was lanced, we have the fullest confidence that in a little time he will be perfectly cured.

He has taken about three dozen bottles of VEGETINE, but lately uses but little, as he declares that he is too well to be taking medicine.

Respectfully yours,
E. S. BEST,
MRS. L. C. F. BEST.

ALL DISEASES OF THE BLOOD.

If VEGETINE will relieve pain, cleanse, purify and cure such diseases, restoring the patient to perfect health after trying different physicians, many remedies, suffering for years, is it not conclusive proof, if you are a sufferer, you can be cured? Why is this medicine performing such great cures? It works in the blood, in the circulating fluid. It can truly be called the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER. The great source of disease originates in the blood; and no medicine that does not act directly upon it, to purify and renovate, has any just claim upon public attention.

RECOMMEND IT HEARTILY.

SOUTH BOSTON, Feb. 7, 1870.

MR. STEVENS: Dear Sir—I have taken several bottles of your VEGETINE, and am convinced it is a valuable remedy for Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaint, and general debility of the system.

I can heartily recommend it to all suffering from the above complaints. Yours respectfully,
MRS. MONROE PARKER,
386 Athens Street

GENERAL NEWS.

FROM WASHINGTON.

A Mandamus.

WASHINGTON, April 22.

Chief Justice Carter yesterday denied a writ of mandamus asked against the secretary of the navy. The object of the petitioners was to compel that official to revise the action of the department in the settlement of prize money for the capture of the rebel ram Albemarle. The judge held that the service of a previous secretary of the navy did not hold good against the present incumbent.

FROM NEW YORK.

TWEED.

Not to Appear Before the Legislative Committee.

NEW YORK, April 21.

John D. Townsend notified the legislative committee today that he had advised his client, Wm. M. Tweed, to decline giving any testimony at this time before them. He says Tweed has confided only to him a statement to be submitted to the attorney general which the latter is now considering. This statement is to be returned undivulged in case the attorney general declines acceding to the release of Tweed. He says a divulging of it would give offenders an opportunity for escape, besides which, it might tend to criminate Tweed.

AFFAIRS IN THE EAST.

Advices to the State Department at Washington.

WASHINGTON, April 21.

Cablegrams received by the state department indicate that there is no longer any possibility of averting war between Russia and Turkey.

Mails from various consulates indicate that Russia is preparing to make either a real or pretended flank movement on Constantinople round the eastern shore of Black Sea and through Asia Minor. Troops are already moving in small bodies toward several Russian towns in that direction, and it is surmised they will eventually be concentrated at some point near the northeastern boundary of Turkey in Asia, and there be reinforced by aid from Persia. In the event of the latter power becoming Russia's open ally, it is also believed in Washington diplomatic circles that a circuitous movement on Constantinople will be made through Servia and Montenegro, as on this route Russian forces would encounter less formidable obstacles, either of a natural or artificial character, and could also count upon supplies and other assistance from a largely sympathetic population.

Gortschakoff's Circular Issued.

A dispatch, dated Vienna, Sunday evening, says, "A courier, with Gortschakoff's circular, has arrived here. To all appearances the circular is identical with a war manifesto and ultimatum to the porte. M. Nelidoff will present a copy to the porte and immediately afterward depart from Constantinople."

The Complete Understanding Between Austria and Russia.

PETERSBURG, April 21.

The Agence Russe, referring to the possible Austrian occupation of Bosnia and Herzegovina, says a complete agreement exists between Austria and Russia.

Postal authorities have been notified that the steamers plying between Odessa and Constantinople have ceased running.

The Sultan to Command in Person.

LONDON, April 22.

A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Pera, Sunday, says, "The Sultan, while still hoping for peace, definitely decided today to go to the Danube and take command of the troops in the case of war."

England's Eastern Fleet to be Reinforced.

Servian Activity.

The correspondent of the Daily News at Pesth telegraphs: I hear that Servia, notwithstanding peace with the Porte is concentrating two corps, nominally of observation, one at Negotin and the other at Deligrad, and has prohibited all Servian subjects leaving the principality.

LOUISIANA.

Departure of the Commission.

NEW ORLEANS, April 21.

The commission closed their labors today and left for Washington via Mobile. The results achieved by them are more complete than was anticipated. The general feeling is that these results will be of immense advantage to the state. The commission have been more than ordinarily circumspect and have devoted themselves in the most laborious manner to their work. In their innumerable interviews with delegations and committees, and individuals of both parties they have been courteous and patient. It is understood that an ovation tendered them by the people of this city was declined with thanks.

The Present Situation.—Packard's Plans.

NEW ORLEANS, April 22.

There is no apparent change in the situation today. It is reliably stated that Governor Packard will remain in the state house until after the troops are withdrawn and his men paid off from the contingent fund, which Gov. Nicholls has consented to use for the purpose. The impression among the leaders now is that a senator will not be elected until Wednesday next, when the legislature will assemble in the state house. The talk among the extremist republicans is that they will endeavor to form a combination and elect an anti-administration senator. The parties are very much divided and the candidates numerous.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

NEW YORK, April 21.

A Columbia, S. C., special of last night says R. H. Gleaves, colored, republican contestant for the office of lieutenant governor, has formally signified to his democratic opponent, W. D. Simpson, his desire to surrender his office quietly and with the usual formalities, upon the assemblage of the legislature, Tuesday next. The lieutenant governor is ex-officio president of the senate, and Gleaves has filled both positions during the successive administrations of Governors Moses and Chamberlain.

Organizing for the Legislature.

The republican state executive committee is in session. A thorough organization of the party forces under Chamberlain and other well known politicians has been determined upon, and all the indications point to a stormy session of the coming legislature, the democrats having a majority of one only on joint ballot.

A Boy Six Years Old Shoots His Playfellow.

BOSTON, April 21.

Two lads, Dudley Kimball, six years old, and Stephen Cox, aged seven years, residing near each other on Holyoke street, quarrelled at play this afternoon, and Kimball, saying "I will fix you," went home, and, procuring his father's revolver, shot Cox through the temple. The wounded boy died two hours after. Both families stand high in the community, and the fathers of the lads are both prominent business men.

Later.

BOSTON, April 22.

The case of Stephen Cox, the boy of six years who was shot and killed yesterday by Dudley Kimball, four and a half years old, (not six as first reported,) is the general theme today. It is generally conceded that young Kimball fired the fatal shot with a well-defined motive to do injury, but it seems incredible he could have realized the full extent of the act. The coroner impanelled a jury and viewed the body today. An inquest will probably be held tomorrow.

FAMINE IN CHINA.

Insurrection Among the Troops.—Religious Tolerance.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.

There is a distressing famine in the provinces of Chi-li and Shan-tung. Thousands are dying daily.

An insurrection has broken out in the army of Si Hung Chung, near Tien-tsin. Three thousand troops, driven to desperation by deprivation of pay and rations, mutinied, murdered their officers and scattered throughout Chi-li and Shan-tung, adding to the sufferings already caused by famine.

DEADWOOD, D. T., April 21.

A mass meeting of the people of the Black Hills here today adopted a memorial to congress urging the formation of a new territory embracing the Black Hills region, to be called Lincoln. A resolution was adopted accrediting J. B. Chaffee, senator from Colorado, as representative to urge their claims in the Senate.

Revolt in Paraguay.

PERNAMBUCO, April 21.

A revolt has occurred in Paraguay and President Don Bautista Gill and his brother have been assassinated. The conspirators were routed. Rivarolta still holds the rural districts.

Six Woodmen Drowned.

NEW YORK, April 22.

Two wood-choppers' cabins near Whitehaven, Pa., were washed down the mountain side by the flood, Friday night, and six men were drowned.

Surrender of Indians.

CHEYENNE, April 21.

About 500 Indians surrendered to Gen. Crook today. They were in quite a destitute condition.

Wreck of a French Mail Boat.

LONDON, April 21.

A telegram from Brest announces the wreck of the mail boat to the island. Eight passengers and the entire crew were drowned.

SUNDRIES.

"A baby," says a recent French writer, "is an angel whose wings decrease as its legs increase."

Which is the most intellectual of the vegetable kingdom? The cabbage, of course, for it all runs to head.

When the Baltimore Gazette speaks of "pantaloons with one leg" it means the present style of ladies' dresses.

The following order was recently left on the slate of a New Hampshire doctor: "Doc, cum up to ther hous; the old man has got snaix in his butes agin an' raison kain."

Mrs. Hayes would as leaf not Havana smoking about the White House, and whatever Mrs. Hayes may decide upon, she will have the President to back her.—[Phil. Times.

You can always detect a bachelor by the way he handles a baby; but to be safe from loss it is well to use a borrowed baby in making the experiment.—[Rome Sentinel.

It sounds like a romance to read that over one hundred handsome American girls broke through the ice last winter, were rescued, and have married their rescuers.

A western man has called on an editor to demand correction of a paragraph saying that the aforesaid man had committed suicide by hanging. It was a mistake, in fact, a mere paper-hanging.

Round cornered collars will be worn by gentlemen this season, having superseded those with sharp points, and hereafter, a man will be able to call upon a girl to inquire after the health of her parents, without running the risk of putting out one of her eyes.

When a man is laid up with a broken leg and there is no floor in the house, nothing pleases him so much as to have the members of the society to which he belongs present him with a series of resolutions expressing their high appreciation of his fine moral character.

"Let me see," says the nurse of a sick man, "the doctor said one teaspoonful every ten minutes; that makes six every hour, say seventy two during the night. I shall give him seventy two spoonsful right away, and have a chance to get a little sleep myself."

The Danbury News man opened his lecture at Bridgeport by remarking that he had seen so much about it on the posters and in the papers during the past week or two that he had come to have a feverish desire to hear it himself and was very glad he was present.

The use of the editorial "we" is sometimes unfortunate. An exchange remarks: "Proprietor Walter of the London Times, who visited us last year, says we are not afflicted as much with drunkenness on the streets as at home."

A country girl wrote to her lover, "Now George, don't you fale to be at the singing school tonight." George wrote back that "In the bright lexicon of youth—Worcester's—there's no such word as fale."

A man never knows just when he is missing a golden opportunity. William M. Evarts at one time had a chance to be secretary of a life insurance company. He did not improve his opportunity, and see where he is stranded now.

An exchange encouragingly remarks that the average young man is so unreliable that fathers ought to hide their daughters. What the average young man is afraid of is not so much that a father will hide his daughter as that he will hide the average young man.

A woman in Omaha was choked almost to death, and entirely destroyed her power of speech, the other day, by swallowing a gaiter button. We have said a thousand times that some serious trouble would yet come of this custom of Omaha women unbuttoning their shoes with their teeth.

"What do you do for a living?" asked a farmer of a burly beggar, who applied at his door for cold victuals and clothes. "I don't do nothing much but travel about," was the answer. "Are you good at travelling?" asked the farmer. "Yes," replied the beggar. "Then let's see you travel," said the farmer.

A story is told of a shrewish Scotch woman who tried to wean her husband from the public-house by employing her brother to act the part of ghost and frighten John on his way home. "Who are you?" said the guidman, as the apparition rose before him from behind a bush. "I am auld Nick," was the reply. "Come awa,' man," said John, nothing daunted: "gie's a shake of your hand; I am married the a sister o' yours."

They were out walking, enjoying the cool and refreshing air. The bright moon cast its rays over the lady, giving her an almost angelic appearance, and imparted to her flowing curls a still more golden hue. One of her soft white hands rested in his, and ever and anon she met his ardent gaze with one of pure love. Suddenly a change came over her features; her full red lips trembled as if with suppressed sighs; the muscles of her faultless mouth became convulsed; she gasped for breath, and, snatching her hand from the soft pressure of his, she turned away, buried her face in her cambric handkerchief, and—sneezed!

A ten-year-old boy of solemn visage stood before the monkey cage in Central Park on Sunday, and heaved a deep sigh as he whispered, "If I had four legs folks would feed me on cheese and ginger snaps. I hain't got but two and it's taters and bread from one year to 'nother." Catching sight of an aged monkey sitting on a limb, the boy continued, "If I was bald-headed and had eyes like a stove cover, folks would pass me candy and call me purty!" After resting a minute, he observed, "I can't hang on a limb by one foot as that air chap can, and so nobody hands me gum or jaw-breakers, and none of the papers ever say any good 'bout me."

ANECDOTE OF PRESIDENT LINCOLN.

I am reminded very forcibly of an interview which I once had with the martyr president by reading in the Editor's Drawer of your magazine what one of your correspondents relates in regard to a similar interview. I called upon Mr. Lincoln soon after he was first installed in the White House. In the room where L. granted interviews, etc., were several persons who were waiting their turn to speak with him. I listened to the requests of several men and women, and I saw that very few were granted what they solicited. I had a seat near one end of a long table. Mr. Lincoln sat at the other end. Soon after I was seated, in walked several officers of the Spanish navy to pay their compliments to Mr. L. By some means they were directed toward my end of the table, and I saw they took me for the President. Mr. L. saw the same thing, and hastily signaled me to "go ahead," as he expressed it, and receive them. I rose, shook hands with each officer, and exchanged a few words with them, which would have been, I suppose, appropriate, had I indeed been President. The moment their backs were turned I looked toward Mr. L. He was shaking with laughter. I thought now I had paved the way to win the position I had come to ask. I made up my mind to address the President in a new way, add thus add to the hold I already had upon him. So, when my time came, I stepped up to Mr. L. and said,

"Sir, I have seen the annoyance to which you are subjected by so many and often-repeated requests for innumerable positions, etc. Now if you will permit me to shake hands, I will try and smother my desire for a certain position which I had come to ask from you."

Mr. L. jumped up, and grasping my hand said,

"Sir, you are one man in a thousand. I am doubly indebted to you. You have been the means of conveying to those Spanish officers the idea that the president of the United States is a very handsome man, and then you do not even ask an office. But," he added, "hurry home. You may repent."

It is sufficient to add that I hurried.—[Editor's Drawer, in Harper's Magazine for May.

THE TURKISH PARLIAMENT.

Were it not that accounts coming from the most varied sources are all to the same effect, it would be difficult to believe in the reality of all that is said of the Turkish parliament, so different is this from what might have been expected of such an assembly in Turkey. Although, with the exception of the debate on the address, the business has hitherto been rather of a formal kind, relating merely to the rules of the house, the members are addressing themselves with earnestness to their task, and, what is more surprising, show a knowledge of the subject and appreciation of the possible bearing of even formal questions which would do credit to an assembly of much older date; while as regards independence of bearing and the moral courage required to speak out, there seems rather too much than too little of that for so young an assembly.

The timidity and embarrassment caused by want of practice in public speaking are fast appearing. The more primitive and unsophisticated state of society in the East makes people in general less liable to be oppressed by that feeling of false shame which too often weighs down Western people when they find themselves in a novel position and distrust their own powers. The formal, ceremonious, lisping ways of Stamboul Effendis must not be taken as a type of Turkish provincials, who form the bulk of the Turkish members of Parliament; and if there was ever any misgiving in the provincials about their ability to express themselves in the Kapu Hisam, the refined, flowery language of business and society in Constantinople, interlarded with Arab and Persian words, it has now disappeared, and every one who has anything to say has no hesitation in saying it in his simple vernacular, without caring in the least what will be thought about it.—[London Times's Vienna Correspondence.

In a recent lecture to workingmen Dr. John Hall of New York estimated that of every hundred young men who entered out large cities, inspired with the dream of amassing a fortune by brain-work, ninety-five made total failures. That is hardly an extravagant statement, especially according to experiences of the present time. Young men who can find employment in the country at fair living prices, whether it is work for head or hands, had better stay there, for the city affords them poor pickings. It is not so full of fascination as they have imagined it, and certainly it gives fewer and smaller inducements to legitimate industry for a new-comer than the country town which he has deserted.

Rev. Mr. Bray, the financial agent of East Greenwich Academy, has secured during the year by pledges and cash, the handsome amount of $23,000 towards paying the $52,000—the debt of the institution. That is doing well for a year of hard times.—[Pendulum.

THE DAY.

There were 126 deaths in Boston last week.

The junior exhibition of Brown University occurred Saturday forenoon.

Prof. Seager is preparing to give "Queen Esther" in Boston in a few weeks, with a chorus of 500 voices.

Tweed declines to answer questions, but says he did not make the confession published in the World.

The pope has added several codicils to his will, and it is suspected His Holiness is suffering from heart disease.

The king of Abyssinia has released Mitchell, the American geographer, who has arrived at Massomah in a pitiable condition.

The agent of the mills at Wamsutta gives notice that they will be opened for work next Monday, at the February prices.

Amnesty has been proclaimed in Madrid to all soldiers or officers connected with the Carlist insurrection who surrender within thirty days.

The pulpit of Westminster Abbey was filled last Sunday by Bishop Clarke, of this diocese. He is said to be the first American bishop officiating in the Abbey.

There is great suffering in the provinces of Chin-li and Shan-tung in China caused by a famine, of which thousands are dying daily, and by an insurrection of troops which have been deprived of pay and rations.

The famous painting of the Battle of Gettysburg by Walker, is on exhibition at Bachelder's art gallery studio building, Boston. The painting has the fullest indorsement by Gen. Meade and others who took part in the great battle and is commended by the press generally.

Charles Francis Adams is still of the opinion that Samuel J. Tilden should have been president. Of course he is, for in that case Charles Francis was to be secretary of state. Having allowed himself to become a tool of the democratic managers he very naturally feels that he ought to have his reward. As the case stands he didn't get it.

The Louisiana commission have left New Orleans for Washington. Many of the Packard legislature went over to Nicholls on Saturday and several made speeches on taking their seats in the other assembly. The republican members who were returned by the board are to be paid, as will be the Packard policemen and employes yesterday.

People are fast coming to the conclusion that the southern policy of President Hayes is right. A case in point is that of Congressman White of Pa., who went to Washington very strongly opposed to the new southern policy, but, after the president had talked it over with him, confessed that it was the correct thing, promised to support it, and, at last accounts, was going home to call a public meeting to indorse it.

Latest news is to the effect that Mr. Blaine will introduce at the June session of congress resolutions doubting the legality of President Hayes's election and proposing a grand court of arbitration to decide that point; said court to be composed of the chief justices of the state supreme courts, 38 in all. The portion of the resolutions relative to this court takes the form of a bill, with a provision that any other person besides the defeated candidate may bring action in the premises. Next!

There is a general desire to make a change in the mode of electing a president. The first practical movement seems to be in New York whose legislature seems likely to make an important change in the manner of choosing electors in that state by returning to the old system of electing the two at large on a general ticket and the rest by congressional districts. A bill for this purpose has passed the assembly, and promises to go through the senate. Under the present system the 521,949 ballots for Tilden last November were represented by the 35 electoral votes of the state, while the 489,-207 for Hayes had not a single representative in the electoral college. Under the proposed system the democrats would have chosen the two at large and 16 by district—18 in all—to 17 by districts for the republicans—a division infinitely more fair in every point of view. But to make it exactly fair a similar change should be made in other states, so that democratic minorities as well as republican should be represented.

STEPHEN AYRAULT ROBINSON.

A correspondent of the Providence Journal who signs himself "H" in writing a notice of the late Mr. Robinson pays the following compliment to our city and its prominent men of other days:

In Mr. Robinson's boyhood days, Newport retained much of that commercial activity which, in the middle of the last century, made her harbor the Tyre of America. Very many of her young men sought employment and distinction in the naval or merchant service.

Young Robinson partook of the spirit of the times, and made several voyages, but on arriving at his majority, abandoned the sea and devoted himself to mercantile pursuits, in which he was for many years successful, but met with reverses through his generosity, as I have been told, by indorsing for a friend.

Mr. Robinson married Sarah H. Potter, February the 11th, 1822. His wife still survives him. She was a daughter of the late Jeremiah N. Potter, of South Kingstown. Mr. Potter was one of the very best specimens of that class of old-fashioned country gentlemen, for which the Narragansett country was famous in the latter part of the last and the early part of the present century. He was the life-long and trusted friend of the late Hon. Elisha R. Potter. Well do I remember his erect and manly form, his grave but cheerful face, and his ever kind manner; but I recall him in a tender relation as one who bestowed upon my father in his last sickness those inexpressibly welcome offices of affection and regard. When country gentlemen were sick fifty years ago, they were not turned over to the care of hired nurses, but their watchers were those friends and neighbors whom they had known and loved through life. I see Mr. Potter now as I saw him twice every week, in the early autumn of 1828, at evening, entering the sick room of my father. I hear the tones of his voice as he approaches the bedside to grasp the extended hand, saying in accents as gentle as a woman, "Well, doctor, how do you feel tonight?" and then the boots were laid aside, the noiseless slippers put on, and my father was left in the care of his trusty friend.

Mr. Robinson's home in Newport was on Thames street, down town, just below the custom house, and on the harbor side. It was the same estate now occupied by Silas Cottrell and was famed for its kindly welcome even in those days. No city in the Union, in Mr. Robinson's early manhood, could boast a finer set of gentlemen than graced the society of Newport. Mr. Robinson was too intimately associated with them all for us to suppress their names. Gov. Collins, whose hospitable doors stood open to every friend, Gov. Engs, Nat. Ruggles, Henry Bull, and in my own profession what men they were. Their names and their example cannot be too often recalled by the rising bar of Rhode Island: Asher Robbins, R. K. Randolph, the scholarly and accomplished Hunter, Benj. Hazard, Dutee J. Pearce, the companionable and entertaining Ennis, Dr. William Turner, Dr. Waring, Dr. Mann, Dr. King, Commodore Daniel Turner, and that handsomest of men, Pursar Breeze, with many more remarkable personages, all of whom I saw often in my youth. In that school of noble men were the habits and manners of Mr. Robinson formed, and he never forgot to his latest hour that he was born and bred a gentleman. I was struck with a remark of one of his poor neighbors, when he was told of his death. Said he, "He was the greatest gentleman I ever saw." And the scholarly clergyman, who officiated at his funeral, never more happily characterized the dead than when he spoke of him as "a rare and genial Christian gentleman."

While Mr. Robinson resided in Newport, he took a deep interest in two organizations, the Newport Artillery and the order of Masons, of which he was one of the oldest, if not the oldest member in the state. He was sergeant of the Newport Artillery in 1825, and Dr. William H. Hazard, then a medical student in Dr. William Turner's office, was surgeon of the corps. They have lived near neighbors and friends in the country for the last forty years, and it was in Dr. Hazard's arms that he breathed his last. Dr. Robinson was afterwards Colonel of the Artillery, an office which has been held by Christopher G. Champlain, Rickard K. Randolph, Levi Tower, Henry Y. and Robert B. Cranston, and many other gentlemen of note. Both the Masons and the Newport Artillery sent delegations from their respective bodies to attend his funeral, and to show their respect and regard for him at his grave.

THE TURKS IN EUROPE.

[For the News.]

The collision in eastern Europe, which now appears inevitable, will naturally enlist the public attention more fully even than the disorders which have prevailed there for the past two years. If others are like ourselves, we fancy that there may be many whose knowledge of the question is more or less limited and confused. To all such, we commend the article of E. A. Freeman, the historian of the Norman Conquest, entitled The Turks in Europe, and published in Harper's Half-Hour Series. It was first given to the public, we believe, in the pages of the Contemporary Review.

In discussing the subject, Mr. Freeman proposes and answers three questions, namely, Who and what are the Turks? What have the Turks done in Europe? and What is to be done with the Turk? He does not attempt to give a full history of the recent difficulties in Turkey. In fact that is not necessary. For the question presented by these disturbances is not a new one. On the contrary it is a very old and a constantly recurring one. As indicated above, his purpose is to show the relation of the Ottoman to the other peoples of Europe, his relation to the people he governs, and how the difficulties growing out of these relations may be remedied.

The article is an admirable one. It is clear and forcible in style, and its shortness is such as to render it inviting to those to whom longer and more elaborate articles would seem formidable. From it an understanding of the whole question can be obtained as it could not be from long continued study of the newspapers, and it will, moreover, aid in the intelligent reading of future news reports from that unfortunate section.

The little book costs but fifteen cents and is for sale by our newsdealers. B.

President Hayes has invited his uncle, the venerable Austin Burchard of Fayettville, Vt., who is eighty-one years old, to make him a visit at the White House, and promises to send his son Webb as an escort. But Mr. Burchard declines on account of his age and physical infirmity and also his disinclination to mingle in society on account of the death of his daughter Mary, who was killed at Ashtabula, and so the president will probably visit the old gentleman himself early in the summer.

The New York House of Assembly has passed a bill by which the two electors at large are elected on a general State ticket and the others by the vote of congressional districts. The vote was almost a strictly party one, the republicans voting for and the democrats against the measure.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

—April showers in earnest yesterday.

—The Aquidneck House opens today.

—Did you see the rainbow last night?

—About thirty vessels arrived here yesterday.

—Thames street was crowded Saturday evening.

—Rev. Mr. Bray will preach in Thames-street M. E. Church this evening. Service will commence at 7½ o'clock.

—Philip Taggart, of New York, has taken possession of the Stevens house, corner of Bay View avenue and Broadway, for the season.

—Miss Denham, for many years the efficient matron of the Childrens' Home, has resigned and will leave the institution in about a fortnight. Her successor has not been appointed.

—The assignee's sale at 74 Thames street attracted a large crowd of buyers on Saturday. Hereafter the store will be open from 8 to 12 o'clock in the morning, and from 2 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon.

—The famous San Francisco minstrels appear in the Opera House on Tuesday evening of next week. The reputation of the company under the management of Messrs. Birch, Wambold and Backus, who take the leading parts, is excellent and they will probably have a good house. Seats will be on sale three days in advance.

—Rev. Mr. Brooks has written a hymn for the reform club meeting tonight at the Unitarian Church. Major Welch of Providence will be at the meeting and will speak on the Reynolds' way of promoting the cause of temperance. Rev. Mr. Kettell and others are expected to be present. The young people's singing club of the church will sing pieces prepared for the occasion.

—The revenue cutter Samuel Dexter, Capt. Carson, arrived here yesterday afternoon having in tow the schooner T. S. McClellan of and for Portland from Port Johnson, which had been run into at 1 o'clock yesterday morning by an unknown schooner off Sow and Pigs lightship. Her bow-sprit was carried away and other damage done. It is not known whether the colliding vessel was injured or not.

—After discharging her freight at Fall River yesterday, the steamer Old Colony came here to be laid up for the summer. Her bedding, crockery &c., were placed on board the Providence and yesterday was a very busy day in the vicinity of Long wharf. The Providence went to Fall River this afternoon and will take the place of the Old Colony tonight. Like the Bristol she is in excellent order and the decorating, gilding and frescoing are the finest ever seen on a steamboat in this or any other country, and reflect no little credit upon the artist, Mr. Hayman. It is thought that this work is far ahead of that executed on the Bristol, but both boats will bear inspection and the company can well be proud of them.

—The schooner Paragon of Learsport, Shoot, master, arrived here Saturday from Savannah, bound to Providence. The captain reports that during a gale of the 14th inst., he lost his boat, stove bulwarks and sustained other slight damage. In the gale of the 16th in latitude 32° 28 and longitude 77° 11 fell in with the schooner Mary W. Hupper, dismasted and the sea breaking over her. Five of the crew were on deck. It was blowing a gale at the time, and Capt. Shoot having lost his boat could render the unfortunate men no assistance. He, however, laid by the vessel for thirty six hours and is of the opinion that the crew were taken off by a schooner and landed at Savannah. Capt. Shoot further reports that after the gale of the 14th he saw several vessels all of which seemed to have sustained some damage. He saw what he thought was the wreck of a steamer, nothing being standing, except her foremast.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

The unusual religious interest prevailing in the city led to large congregations in many of the churches yesterday notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather. At the First Methodist Episcopal Church Rev. E. M. Smith entered upon the work of his new pastorate, being well received and heartily welcomed by members of the church and congregation. He preached an appropriate sermon in the morning on the parable of the sower illustrating the kinds of hearers which a clergyman is called upon to address, and asking the hearty co-operation of his people in the work of the Master. The discourses of the day and the services of the evening were such as to impress the congregation that the action of the bishop in appointing Mr. Smith to this church was wise and well timed.

The Friends' Meeting House was crowded last evening. Miss Jones and Mrs. Collins were in charge both of whom made some excellent remarks. At the close of the service, the recent converts and persons who desired a change of heart were invited to remain and a hundred or more accepted the invitation. Another meeting will be held tomorrow evening.

The Rev. Mr. Bray officiated at the Thames street M. E. Church in the afternoon. The Sunday school exercises in the morning were very interesting. The subject of the blackboard was the "Wordless Book" which was pleasingly illustrated and explained by the superintendent. In the evening there was a large attendance at the regular meeting. At the inquiry meeting in the chapel, several went to the altar for prayers.

Rev. Mr. Kettell exchanged pulpits yesterday with Rev. G. L. Locke, rector of St. Michael's Church, Bristol. In the afternoon Mr. Locke preached at Emmanuel Church.

THE MAY MAGAZINES.

SCRIBNER FOR MAY has several seasonable papers on home life, in-doors and out. The most prominent of these is Colonel Waring's discussion of the organization and work of "Village Improvement Associations," in the course of which he gives a draft of by-laws which he recommends as of great working value. Colonel Waring gives a sketch of the Stockbridge, Massachusetts, Association, and goes into the details of sidewalk and road making, and the village water supply. Supplementing this, in the "Home and Society" department, are directions on "Transplanting," by P. T. Quinn. The other articles are by Clarence Cook, A. R. McDonough, John Arbuckle, John Burroughs, R. H. Stoddard, and other well known contributors. Taken as a whole this is an excellent number, equal to any of its predecessors.

BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE for April, has been republished by the Leonard Scott Publishing Co., 41 Barclay street, New York. The following are the contents:

The French Army in 1877; A Woman-Hater. Part XI; Creto; Paulino.—Part III.: In the Hebrides; Harriet Martineau; A Railway Journey; Translations from Heine, by Theo. Martin; The Political Situation.

HARPER'S NEW MONTHLY is fully the equal of its most attractive predecessors. Mary Treat begins with a second paper concerning our familiar birds, followed by a "Seaside Story" by J. W. De Forest, and a pretty piece by Maurice Thompson entitled "The Fawn." Next we have "On the Usk," a picturesque illustrated article upon men, manners and landscapes in Wales, by Wirt Sikes. A notable thing follows, namely, a poem called "Israel," by Francis L. Mace, a daintily beautiful piece of work, with eight almost wonderfully good illustrations by Fredericks. Ernest Ingersoll writes an interesting paper concerning the country which lies "At the Gateway of the Catskills," with ten illustrations, and Horace E. Scudder makes a capital antiquarian article, with the title "An Old Gentleman's Recollections," out of materials drawn from the diaries of Mr. Samuel Buck. The reminiscences relate to Boston and Philadelphia society just after the Revolution. Other illustrated papers in the number are "Florence," by C. M. Spencer, and "Things that are Invisible," the third of Dr. Draper's series of articles upon scientific experiments. The two serial stories, Charles Reade's "A Woman Hater" and Blackmore's "Erema," are continued in liberal instalments. As a whole the number is what the publishers name it, a brilliant one.

ST. NICHOLAS is as fine a number of a children's magazine as heart could wish for. In matter and illustration, it is wholly admirable and delightful, a wonder of beauty and interest, sure to bring delight and pleasure to every home it enters, and to make its readers happy, whether young or old. St. Nicholas is by far the best of the magazines for young people, and by no means without interest for older heads. With such writers as John G. Whittier, Saxe Holme, Sidney Lanier, Donald G. Mitchell, J. G. Holland, Celia Thaxter, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Lucy Larcom, Mary Mapes Dodge, Edgar Fawcett, J. T. Trowbridge, and with such artists as Miss Bridges, Alfred Fredericks, J. W. Champney, Sol Eytinge, and Addie Ledyard, the grand spring number of St. Nicholas is as fine an issue of a children's magazine as the world has ever seen.

THE NURSERY for May is as bright and entertaining as ever. The frontispiece is "The Young Lamplighter" and almost every page has a pretty picture besides. There is a poem about the pollywogs which turn into frogs and one about the cooper and the piece for the very little folks is about a boy who tried to draw a picture on the wall. All the children want this number.

The new spring hat worn by the ladies is just too big for anything, and happily we shall probably be rid of the monotony of hearing this feminine decoration called sweet. Hats that started some years ago no larger than an acorn have grown to such size as to cast a shadow half across Chestnut street and a couple of them would save the promenaders on two blocks from sunstroke. No husband or father need fear that he will not get the worth of his money when invested in hats for wife or daughter. They—we are talking about the hats—are so large that a mortgage even will not cover them, and it is probable the really fashionable hat will have to be worn in the country for want of room elsewhere. They will be a death-blow to the trade in parasols and umbrellas; two or three of them in a theatre will make the place look crowded, and clergymen who have to stand in a pulpit above a few of the newest hats will feel as if they were preaching to a lot of gaily-decorated but greatly overgrown circus tents. If the amusement season were not virtually over there might be a sensation in hats, but that will now be left to the camp meeting, where the real utility of the new style will be developed.—[Philadelphia Times.

The Newburyport Herald thinks that at no time within several years has the political sky been so full of peace and general prosperity to the country as it is now, and it earnestly hopes that Mr. Blaine will not be so unwise as to array himself against the President's policy.

A curious specimen of the finny tribe, known as a Jew fish, was recently captured at St. Augustine, Fla. It was the second specimen ever captured in that vicinity, and weighed 310 pounds.

PERSONALS.

.....Miss Emma Abbott is to make her first appearance in Boston early in May.

.....Miss Caroline Webster Day, granddaughter of Daniel Webster, will publish the latter part of May a book of original "Home Anecdotes of Daniel Webster."

.....The private collection of pictures belonging to Mr. Nathan Matthews of Boston will be placed on exhibition in the Kurtz Gallery, New York, next Monday, and sold on the 30th inst.

.....Miss Georgiana Boutwell, a daughter of Senator Boutwell, is at the head of an organization which is establishing a normal school for the instruction of colored teachers, and a large building for this purpose is to be erected immediately at Washington.

.....Miss May Alcott, the sister of Louise Alcott, the authoress, is a fine artist; the Amy in "Little Women." She copies Turner better than any other artist in this country. She seems to have a pathetic fondness for her artistic productions, and tries to learn the destination of all of her pictures when sold.

.....Miss Anne T. Howells, sister of the editor of the Atlantic Monthly and herself a writer of considerable note, is to be married about the first of June to Mr. Achille Frochette, a French Canadian connected with the government at Ottawa. Mr. Frochette formerly resided in Chicago, and was engaged on a French paper there before the fire.

.....When Dean Stanley appeared to deliver the parting address of the late graduating theological class in St Andrew's University, Edinburgh, the future pastors struck up the song, "He's a Jolly Good Fellow," and whenever in the course of his address the Dean quoted Latin, the students cried out, "Translate, translate!"

.....Among a large number of weddings announced to take place in Washington within the next few weeks is that of Lieut. Logan, of the navy, to Miss Lizzie, daughter of Admiral O. D. Porter; Mr. Adams, of the British Legation, to Miss Palmer, and Mr. Gordon Cummings to Miss Fannie Eames. The latter promises to be one of the largest and finest weddings ever witnessed in Washington.

.....The reception of the grand dukes at the White House was gracefully managed. As they descended from their carriages the glass doors of the inner vestibule were thrown open, and Secretary Evarts, in faultless full dress, appeared and greeted the guests. He then escorted them into the presence of the president, and they talked and talked and talked. The Grand Duke Alexis wore a dark-blue uniform, a bright blue sash over his shoulder, and a feather in his hat.

.....Mr. Ruskin says that his father left him $600,000 besides a great deal of real estate and many valuable pictures. His mother also left him $185,000. He gave $5,000 to his poor relations; sold the pictures, bought Brantwood, assisted a young relation in business at a cost of $75,-000, spent another $75,000 on harness and stables, and has given $70,000 to St. George's Company, besides having spent $350,000 variously. He is at present worth $270,000, and announces that he intends to give his valuable Marylebone property to St. George's Company, his Herne Hill estate to his cousin, and the $60,000 which will remain to him he will invest and live and die upon its interest.

HARRY ROBINSON'S MINSTRELS.

It is a long time since an entertainment was greeted by such a large audience as that given by this company at Weiting Opera House Wednesday night, and the performance fully deserved it. From the beginning to the end of the programme the interest of the audience did not flag. Each act was new and original, and was rendered in a style which could not be excelled. It is almost impossible to particularize when everything was so good. The quartette was superb, and rendered their songs in a manner that completely captivated the audience. The band was the best we ever heard with any minstrel organization. The only fault found with this company seems to be that they did not remain another night. Mr. Robinson can always feel sure of a full house in this city when he brings such a company as this here.—[Syracuse, N. Y. Journal.

THE READING RAILROAD.

A clear and satisfactory statement has been made to the public by President Gowen of this road, which sheds abundant light upon the course of its action relative to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. The road was seasonably apprised of the intention of the managers of the brotherhood to bring their arbitrary power to bear against itself next. It became its duty, in the direct interests of fifty millions of capital and fifty thousand laboring men and their families, to take early measures to prevent the success of the plans of the Brotherhood, that was represented on the road and its branches by four hundred engineers. It was to be a struggle for the control of the road and all that this implied. These four hundred engineers received each sixty dollars a month, or $24,000 in all. Five months of idleness would cost $120,-000. In the condition of the coal market, rival companies could well afford to contribute that sum to the Brotherhood in order to bring the Reading road to a stop for that time, for a profit of $5,000,000 could easily be secured to them. But thousands would be reduced to a state of starvation, and a population of two or three hundred thousand, that depends on the traffic of the road, would be most seriously inconvenienced. Four hundred engineers would suffer no interruption in their monthly receipts, although all other workmen might shift for themselves. This is the practical side of the case for the road. On the part of the Brotherhood it is a concerted attempt, made with the binding solemnity of a secret oath, to obtain supreme command of a road representing fifty millions of capital, the continued industry of fifty thousand men, and the daily convenience of a community of a quarter of a million people.

It was a high stake to play for. It was not for the promotion of the benevolent purposes on which the Brotherhood was originally based, but to show that a trades-union could do as it pleased with capital and all that depended on it for an existence. President Gowen says that up to the time of Mr. Arthur's management of the Brotherhood it enjoyed the confidence, respect and esteem of nearly all the railroads in the country." Until that time the Reading had no fault to find either with the Brotherhood itself or with the men in the employ of the road for belonging to it. As a society for the diffusion of beneficent influences it had the best wishes of the road. When Mr. Arthur displaced Mr. Wilson as the head of the Brotherhood, this new departure was attempted, with what success the public is well apprised. It triumphed on the New Jersey Central and the Grand Trunk, but it got a heavy blow from the Maine, and has met its deserved fate at the hands of the Reading. The latter road may be subjected to more or less inconvenience for a week in spite of its precautions, but of its perfect ability to take care of itself in this unjustifiable strike there seems to be no sort of question. An association that has for its object the elevation of the character and qualifications of those belonging to it, challenges the universal respect; but when it becomes an engine of power to defy corporations whose existence is a part of the common life, it exceeds its office so grossly that its utter defeat becomes an object of the general gratification. Engineers have undeniable rights, and so have railroads, and so has the public; and the latter will never lend its countenance or sympathy to either of the former in arbitrary and aggressive experiments by which it suffers the chief wrong and inconvenience itself.—[Post.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

TWO IRRECONCILABLE CONDITIONS.

Debility and health are irreconcilable conditions. Weakly people, that is to say people who lack the vitality requisite for a vigorous discharge of each and all of the bodily functions, are invariably afflicted with some, though it may be a trifling, disorder of the system. Among, or a want of nervous and muscular vigor, is accompanied by poverty of the blood and leanness. A certain way to overcome it and prevent the aggravated maladies to which it must ultimately lead is to use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which promote digestion and assimilation of the food, and thus are the means of furnishing the body with a supply of blood of a quality essential to its proper nourishment. Invigoration through the instrumentality of the matchless tonic protects the feeble from a host of bodily ills which lurk in ambush for the debilitated. The Bitters are an article which it is most desirable to keep constantly on hand.

SOMETHING NEW!

FIFTEEN REASONS

WHY THE

A. B. C. WRINGER

IS SUPERIOR

TO ALL OTHERS!

1. It requires but one half the labor to do the work over the old style wringer.

2. It does not tear off buttons or cut the clothes by forcing and splitting them as other wringers do.

3. It does its work with more uniformity than the old style.

4. It is sold at less than one half the price of other wringers.

5. All of the strength exerted is utilized in wringing, as there is no friction to overcome.

6. It requires no adjustment for different kinds of work.

7. It has no springs to weaken or get out of order.

8. It is made wholly of iron, and galvanized, each and every part being durable, and has no wood about it to warp, crack or split.

9. It is light to handle, and easy to change from one tub to another.

10. Clothes wrung with it will iron easier, as it does not press them full of sharp wrinkles as rubber rolls do.

11. After the clothes are wrung they are left in a loose state, ready to take the bluing or hang out. This is not accomplished in the old style wringer.

12. There are no wearing points, consequently it needs no oil.

13. It will last any one a life time, while others have to be supplied with new rolls in from two to five years time, at a cost which would buy the A. B. C. Wringer.

14. Only the best material is used, and the greatest care is taken to see that every Wringer is perfect before it is sent out.

15. Any person purchasing an A. B. C. Wringer and who is not satisfied with it, after a fair trial, can return it at the end of thirty days, and his money will be refunded.

I would say that through the kindness of my friends, I have disposed of about two different vehicles the past few years having sold carriages to go to Providence, R. I., Stonington, Ct., Little Rock, Arkansas, Middletown, Portsmouth, Taverton, Fall River, New Hampshire and various other places, all of which have proved as represented. To those having any House Painting, Graining or any other work, that they want done and are willing to pay a fair price to have the same done in a good and substantial manner, I shall be glad to give estimates, and will warrant all work done by me to be in every respect as represented. I return my thanks for the generous patronage which has been bestowed in the past and asked a continuance in the future. To my very numerous friends who have neglected to settle their bills for work done long ago,—if they will now respond by attending to them at once they will confer a great favor, as money is now very useful.

THE PERMANENT EXHIBITION AT PHILADELPHIA.

On the 10th of next month, the first anniversary of the opening of the Centennial Exhibition, the Permanent International Exhibition will be opened with impressive ceremonies. The exhibition company is sending invitations to prominent national, state, municipal and other officials to be present on the occasion. The exercises are to be held in the central transept of the Main Building, immediately in front of the great Roosevelt organ, now owned by the company, where a gallery, capable of seating an orchestra and chorus of twenty-five hundred persons has been erected. The entire exhibition, comprising as many departments as there were at the centennial, scattered over two hundred and forty acres of ground, will be contained in the Main Building, which has been purchased by the company. The building covers twenty-one acres, a space as great as that occupied by the first World's Fair at London.

One particular in which the coming show will excel the last is comprehensiveness. Similar articles of the same group will be exhibited close together, thus facilitating comparison and study, and there will hardly be cause for the oft-repeated complaint during the centennial, that it was too big and scattered. The display, although mainly American, will comprise exhibits from most of the foreign nations which were represented at the centennial. Brazil and Spain will make industrial and agricultural exhibits, and the following named countries general ones: Austria, Belgium, China, Canada, Denmark, Egypt, Great Britain, Germany, Italy, Japan, Mexico, Norway, Orange Free State, Portugal, Russia, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey, Tunis and Venezuela. France will be represented by a magnificent "crystal court," with walls of plate glass. This glass includes the two immense plates exhibited at the centennial which are the largest ever imported to this country. In rearranging the exhibits the longitudinal avenues of the building were made much wider, it having been noticed during the centennial that the streams of visitors flowed principally through them, while the transverse aisles remained almost deserted. There will be four places of entrance to the building—one at each end and one at the centre of each side. The principal one—that on the southern side—communicates directly with the art department, where there is a large collection of bronze statuary, comprising many original models.

Musical performances will be a prominent attraction of the exhibition, special facilities being afforded to societies and schools for public concerts and rehearsals. No charge will be made for the use of either the auditorium or the organ. In front of the orchestra and chorus platform and extending to the central towers of the building are seating accommodations for immense audiences. At the centre of the grand music stand is to be placed the original model of the colossal statue of America, which is to be erected on Boston Common. Broad stairways lead from the platform to galleries running from the north side of the building to the central towers. Underneath these galleries are rows of alcoves, in which will be exhibited groups illustrating the social life of the people of Germany, the Netherlands and other countries, as well as costumed human figures showing modes of dress in nearly every quarter of the globe. It is intended to make the educational and book exhibits a specialty.

Leaving the central transept and proceeding through the building, one sees here and there objects that were special attractions in the various buildings during the centennial, prominent among them being foreign pavilions, the old windmill from Agricultural Hall, the Kansas liberty bell and the grindstone monument from Machinery Hall. Many of the pavilions in the building during the centennial have changed both their form and location, all that were allowed to remain now fronting on the central avenue and thus making a better show. The enclosure formerly used by Norway will be used for the exhibits of Sweden, Norway and Denmark. The Tunisian pavilion has been re-erected and Turkey's cases removed to the northern side of the avenue, where a structure in the Byzantine style of architecture has been built around them. The Spanish and Egyptian enclosures remain where they stood before, and each will contain new exhibits. Opposite the Spanish pavilion is the structure which enclosed the agricultural display of Spain in Agricultural Hall.

Among other prominent features of the show will be the tableau of Washington at Yorktown, formerly exhibited at the rink on Chestnut street; a large aquarium covering a space of 15,000 square feet, and containing fresh and salt water specimens; and a "department of public comfort" for the accommodation of visitors. The southwestern portion of the building, a location far removed from the auditorium, is to be devoted to machinery from Machinery Hall, while the northwestern section will be occupied by the agricultural display. Upwards of three fourths of a mile of shafting will be required for the proper working of the machinery that is to be in operation, and among those exhibiting in this department will be representative firms of this country. Many of the state collective displays appear here newly arranged, the mineral exhibit of Colorado, and the display of stuffed hides of animals killed by Mrs. Maxwell, the Colorado huntress and naturalist, being conspicuous among them.—[Philadelphia Times.

CHILDREN TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW'S

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething,

greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is Sure to Regulate the Bowels.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and Relief and Health to Your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILLMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in

Thousands of Cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels, and Wind Colic.

We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—DO NOT LET YOUR PREJUDICES, NOR THE PREJUDICES OF OTHERS, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle.

TO THE LOVERS of STEREOSCOPIC VIEWS.

THE ATTENTION of the public is invited to the following views from negative by J. A. WILLIAMS, which is believed to be the best and largest collection of the gems of Newport scenery ever offered.

The negatives are all carefully taken with the best materials and instruments and aim to present not merely pictures of landscapes from points chosen at random as is the case with many others, but, views which shall combine within themselves all the best elements of a picture in the artistic sense.

We would call particular attention to our new colored slide views taken the present season, 1876, which exhibit with all the fidelity of the stereoscope.

Parties who may wish to make presents to their friends abroad, or to carry home memoirs of Newport, cannot make a more acceptable choice than by selecting from the many beautiful views of Newport and surroundings.

Interiors and exteriors of houses taken to order. Also parties, horses, &c.
